MOOST DELICIOUS – MOOSE CHEW BONE

“Early in the morning, we are out looking for fresh moose tracks along a forest road. Our dog, fitted with a GPS collar for the day, follows the trail of a big moose bull in a pine forest. Before long, the dog’s enthusiastic and energetic barking sounds through the woods. We let the dog work with the moose for a while, so that the Nordic king of the forest can get used to the barking and we can approach this massive animal unseen. We reach a small clearing and see the dog run in circles and bustle among the frost-covered plants on the other side of the clearing, wildly barking at a dark figure. It is not yet light so we decide to wait for a while, until the dawn. It is a pleasure to watch the lithe and capable dog, to see how energetically and skilfully it handles the big animal. A single shot and the prey is down. This is a demanding way of hunting that puts both the dog’s and the hunter’s skills to the test. Felling a moose this way is the most desirable achievement for both the hunter and the dog.”

“In order to give the dog a long-lasting reward for this fantastic accomplishment, we at Aristo Oy have developed a chew bone made of genuine moose rawhide. Because of the taste, purity and origin, moose chew bones are the very best among dried treats for dogs. The chew bone gets its taste from spruce, birch and wild grass. The purity is ensured both by the manufacturing technology and also by the fact that the chew bone is a genuine natural product that humans have not interfered with by feeding. Products obtained from wild animals are suitable for all dogs, even allergic ones. Free wild animals of the Nordic forests enrich your dog’s everyday life in the form of a tasty chew bone.

Chew bones made of moose rawhide are very durable and delicious. We use the whole moose hide in the manufacturing, including the best part, the upper layer. This way we can offer your dog a unique, very long-lasting and allergy-free enjoyment from a genuine natural product. The next best way to enjoy nature, after outdoor play!
